Governor Jester Reports To People

Governor Beauford H. Jester is a modest man but in that fine characteristic may be found the answer to many achievements during his first year as Governor of Texas.

Governor Jester made a report to the people on the anniversary of his inauguration and the things he has accomplished might well have been told with justifiable boasting but the Governor, a modest man, gave credit in large measure to others.

It is significant that he has been able to achieve a measure of co-operation few chief executives have had. In this too, lies much of the measure by which we value his service to the state. I liked the way he said it and I like the course he has pursued since he became Governor. His stature grows, his usefulness a hope for all Texas.

Thinking people have loved Democracy for they see in it the stimulus of Freedom. Pledging the people and reporting to the people is something of an innovation in politics. As a candidate he led away down the People's Path. If there were those who did not comprehend fully what the Governor had in mind, they can now see clearly what he meant and Texas needed that sort of an administration and happily are getting it.

The Governor has been able to ask for and get substantially all the major pledges enacted into law or action thereon. Indeed he may have set something of a record in co-operative achievement with the Legislature and the Departments of government.

In these days of radical cleavage and world spurity the sane statesman is a boon.

If the Governor had achieved nothing more than his recent contribution to the cause of education he would be worth every bit of confidence invested in his leadership by the people. Texas long 27th rated in education may now be in tenth place, all directly due to what Governor Jester with his great capacity to enlist co-operation has been able to accomplish.

It was characteristic of the man that he would challenge the disastrious Tidelands Decision of the United States Eupreme Court invalidating the long established rights to minerals reserved to the domain of the several states. In this challenge the Governor has the solid backing of all Texas for in the ultimate results of such a baseless policy the school children of Texas will lose untold wealth that can be measured only in billions.

The Governor's program, extending to every phase of the state's business has resulted in major accomplishments in the field of education, public health, penal institutions and a multitude of safety measures, highway construction, improved administration of public welfare legislation, increased appropriations and many others without an increase in taxes, a pledge which the Governor has kept.

Governor Jester deserves and will get the traditional second term and should have it without opposition. Beyond that service he towers a monumental figure for any future and higher responsibility to which Texans are likely to call him.

NEW COLD WAVE HITS CAMERON EARLY TUES.

A new cold wave blanketed Texas with ice, sleet and snow bringing temperatures into a new low in many sections.

At 8 a. m. the temperatures in Cameron was 29 degrees and was falling in North Texas in the Dallas and Fort Worth areas forecasts were that the temperature might fall as low as 10 degrees, certainly not above 15.

Lubbock out on the South Plains had 7 degrees and at Amarillo it was 5 degrees.

The new storm, the fifth cold wave in succession to bring one of the most severe winters on record to the nation, formed in the Rockies. One prong of the current cold wave formed in Canada and had swept as far south as Oklahoma and Arkansas and snow was over Alabama. The Ozark country was in the snow path also as was portions of Missouri.

Snow was falling over the great plains of Texas and by nightfall the weather forecaster said that either freezing rain, sleet or snow would come to Central Texas.

The Cameron area is in the direct path of the new Texas cold wave and the most severe freeze of the winter was regarded as a certainty.

Ice had formed over streets and sidewalks by 9 a. m. and walking was a hazardous undertaking. Extreme caution was advised here.

Sheriff Carl C. Black told The Daily Herald early Tuesday morning that many minor accidents had occured in this territory and he advised that motorists refrain from using the highways unless absolutely necessary Mr. Black advised extreme caution for all types of traffic, pointing out that bridges over Elm Creek and Little River are very dangerous and that portions of railing on Elm Creek had been knocked off by a car or truck. The sheriff said a horse had been killed on the highway near the Municipal Airport.

Sheriff Black said that Henry Reaves, highway maintenance engineer for this county was spreading gravel over the roadways in some sections north of the city, especially at the bridges.

Fatal accidents can be avoided only if car drivers ond truck operators use extreme caution. Until the ice storm has cleared away and roads are free of ice people should stay at home unless necessity compels them to go.

Economic Municipal Government

By AUGUST KUNZ

This year, it seems, more than ever before we hear talk of more economies in the administration of our city government. It seems from where I sit that we have arrived at a point politically, where it is race between factions of who can promise to save the city the most in the shortest length of time, all of which brings to my mind the question of what kind of an economic city government do our voters really want?

Do the voters of Cameron want another penny pinching administration who will stifle the progress of this city by eternally standing guard over the coffers of the treasury, let our civic projects deteriorate from lack of nourishment, isolate ourselves from our neighbors and let the march of progress pass us by while we sleep on contentedly?

Or do the good people of Cameron want a wide awake agressive and

HOUSING SHORTAGE IS STILL BIG PROBLEM

During the war Cameron people made sacrifices to co-operate with any program to ease the housing shortage.

Not much happened since the war to ease the housing shortage. Living accommodations here are needed badly and the lack of any substantial growth in rental properties is retarding growth.

An example of the need, constantly recurring here, is the appeal of the Chamber of Commerce for living quarters for five families who want to come here for the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

All these families have children. There are two sides to the plea for help. We should provide them with housing because we want to be friendly and co-operative and because of the great economic value of increasing the population.

Low rents in Cameron do not encourage construction but if we expect to take advantage of our opportunities we must pool our housing surpluses, make sacrifices and work to overcome this great handicap to progress in Cameron.

If you have housing space or can arrange to rent a portion of your home during the next few weeks, call the Chamber of Commerce and list your accommodations.

New Method On Poll Tax Payments Cause Slight Confusion

The new method of paying state and county poll taxes has caused some confusion, it was learned here to-day.

Under the new system poll taxes are on a separate roll and are not a part of the ad-valorem roll. Under the old system poll taxes were paid along with property taxes.

Under the present system eligible voters must ask for their poll taxes. Some have paid thinking the poll tax was a part of the total, but found they had to go back to the office of the Assessor and Collector and call for them.

Valter White, Assessor and Collector of Taxes, said that this situation may cause some to overlook their poll taxes. Tax collections generally were not brisk and there was a lag in poll tax payments. The office of the Collector will accept payments up to midnight January 31, the last hour to pay, but all should go at once to avoid the last minute rush.

How Green Was Our Valley?

Hubert Harrison, well known in Cameron and for years a figure in the East Texas Chamber of Commerce activity, has something to say about the "High Cost of Dying."

In this day of spurity at home and abroad thinking is quite a novelty. Read what Mr. Harrison says:

In the midst of our concern and discussion over the high cost of living, few of us realize the effect of inheritance tax laws on the high cost of dying. Many well-to-do and wealthy East Texans are waking up to the fact that the estates they have worked so hard to provide for their loved ones may be partially or wholly dissipated at death by our Federal and State taxes and forced sales to pay taxes. This concerns everybody who is worth sixty thousand dollars, directly, and all of us indirectly. If Congress can tax estates at the death of the owner, from seventeen per cent up to as much as seventy-six per cent, on a scale that has increased estate taxes ten thousand per cent in the last twenty years, what is to prevent future Congress from lowering the exemption and raising the rate. This type of taxation destroys the incentive to thrift and enterprise and is part and parcel of the Socialistic philosophy that would take away from him who hath and give to him who hath not.

There is the case of the Texas landowner who left an estate valued at two million dollars, whose widow was bankrupted by Federal and State taxes and expenses of settling the estate. Taxes and expenses amounted to nearly a million dollars which had to be paid in cash. This brought about the forced sale of the land at about half its true value.

The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court taking away our Texas community property rights in inheritance tax matters means in effect that an estate is taxed twice on the whole amount if husband and wife die more than five years apart.

Many wealthy Texans are finding ways of leaving part of their estates to worthy local causes and thereby effect great saving in taxes as well as doing everlasting good. Most any wealthy Texan would rather see a part of his estate go to help build Texas institutions that to see it go to Washington for Federal bureaucrats to squander.

Certainly "you can't take it with you" and you can't even leave it behind you without danger of confiscation by the government.

BEVERAGE DEALERS IN MEETING WEDNESDAY

Members of the Retail Beverage Dealers Association of Milam County, met at the Cameron Country Club Wednesday.

Cotton Bryan, President of the Association, told the dealers that sales to overindulgent drinkers must be discontinued and that often the 'last bottle' would be the sale that would turn the customer into an irresponsible. Hhen to chop off such a customer is the thing for which all dealers must strive.

"That extra bottle will bring you only 25c," said Mr. Bryan, "but it might cost an untold amount if permitted to be consumed by one who has already had enough."

The meeting was a focal point for some city candidates and others. Roy Griffith, candidate for Mayor, told the dealers he would work with them if elected and congratulated them on the formation of the association.

Joe Richter, candidate for City Marshal, was present as was August Kunz, candidate for Alderman. Emmett Streetman, candidate for Alderman, is a member of the Association.

Jim McGoldrick, city marshal and candidate for re-election was present.

Sheriff Carl C. Black upon whom has fallen much of the responsibility to make arrests in accidents said he would be glad to co-operate with the dealers on the cut-off list of those who habitually drink too much by furnishing a list of the known offenders.

The law is very strict. A dealer who sells any alcoholic beverage to a customer to the point of overindulgence will forfeit his license. What the beverage dealers should do is work on that angle.

Coy Arledge was named Chairman of the investigating committee whose duty will be to scrutinize applications for liquor and beer licenses and renewals. Also the duty of this committee will be to look into projected locations of these beverages establishments. Mr. Arledge is to name four committee members.

W. J. Rice, Secretary, said the next meeting will be held in February. There were 21 beverage dealers presnt.

Your Fuel Supply

A WORD FROM LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

You have read, perhaps, newspaper stories and listened to radio newscasts about this winter's "fuel shortage." The government is recommending rationing and restriction of use for some areas.

Because of these circumstances those of you who depend on Lone Star for either Butane or Natural Gas pipe line service probably would like some reassurance about your own fuel situation.

There is no shortage as far as Lone Star customers are concerned. Lone Star has plenty of natural gas and Butane to serve all homes now depending on it.

Lone Star Natural Gas System is fortunately located in that most of its sources of supply in 75 different gas fields form somewhat of a circle around the area served. The transportation system is designed to take advantage of this fact with pipelines criss-crossing the area so gas can be routed from at least two different directions to most communities.

Like its natural gas service, Butane service of Lone Star is experiencing a tremendous demand. Our Butane facilities have been expanded. In this expansion we have been careful not to take on new customers faster than we could provide the facilities for serving them. Therefore, all Lone Star's Butane customers are being adequately served.

We expect to handle, barring pipeline breaks or washout by floods, the fuel needs of homes on Lone Star system, no matter how cold the weather. Should there be any instances of low pressure areas they will be extremely isolated and result from unusual shortages of material over which we have no control.

Homes have first call on Lone Star Service. On extreme days, as in past years, it may be necessary to discontinue service to large industrial users so all our vast pipeline capacity may be used for supplying fuel to homes. Industries contract for service with this understanding. We sincerely appreciate their cooperation.

Lone Star is in midst of vast expansion and improvement program for the thousands of new customers that are being added each year. Forty million dollars are being invested in new facilities. Last year, the first of this program, 100 major projects were completed over the system. They greatly strengthened Lone Star service for the benefit of over 400,000 homes.

Are You "Hobby Happy?"

Funny thing about hobbies... When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modelling!

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers... showed a real interest in his hobby ... until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the missus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

WESTERN POWERS ARE GETTING TOUGH NOW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 — Treatment of Russia by the western powers entered a new and much rougher era today—an era of blunt frankness which could either speed a final breakdown between the Soviet Union and the west or clear the way for a peaceful understanding.

Two devolopments spotlight this turn of affairs with dramatic sharpness:

1. London, British Foreign Minister Bevin announced plans for a union of western states to face a "ruthless" drive by Russia to control Europe. He said one-power domination of the continent "will inevitably lead again to another world war."

2. In Washington the propaganda resources of the United States government were thrown into the task of getting the fullest possible publicity throughout the world, but especially in Europe, for the official disclosures of the 1939-41 relations between the discredited rulers of nazi Germany and the men who now rule Russia.

Some officials here saw a curious, perhaps prophetic relationship between Bevin's speech and the information brought out with the disclosure of the long secret nazi records.

Bevin contended that Russia wants to dominate Europe, by contrast with the partnership deals with Kremlin was willing to make with Hitler in 1939 and 1941. The Soviet ambitions as reported today are vastly swollen.

Russia acquired vast territory in eastern Europe at the end of the war.

FBI AGENTS FINALLY TRAP TEXAS ROBBER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21—Francis M. Hooper, 22, of Belton, Texas, charged with a Texas bank robbery in which his brother was killed, gave up tamely last night to FBI agents and police who surrounded a house where he was visiting a war buddy.

The buddy, Ralph O. Thomas, a rookie policeman, and his pretty wife, had entertained Hooper at dinner after tipping off other officers to his guest's identity.

Hooper is charged in Robertson county, Texas, with armed robbery—a capital offense—in the $12,500 robbery of the First State bank of Bremond, Dec. 23. He had $5,750 in his possession when arrested.

Sheriff Bob Reeves of Robertson county shot down John Bernard Hooper, 26, as he and a companion ran from the Bremond bank with drawn pistols. The second man fled in an automobile after trying to get J. B. Hooper's body into the car.

Francis Hooper's arrest was first announced in Dallas today by Tom Carter, FBI assistant agent-in-charge there.

Thomas said that Hooper, with whom he had served on Okinawa, telephoned him from an airport last night that he was dropping in for a visit. Thomas, who knew that Hooper was a fugitive, notified his superiors and the FBI.

Then he and his pretty wife, Marianne, 24 entertaintd Hooper at dinner and later sat visiting, aware that officers were waiting outside for their guest to leave.

Hooper, who was held in the city jail today pending removal proceedings, said that Thomas had advised him to surrender and that "I was considering it" when captured.

"We killed Japs together on Tinian and Okinawa," Hooper told reporters, "but I'm not sore. If I'd been in his place I'd have done the same thing."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Love is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 1.

The Golden Text is: "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us" I John 4:12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings" (Psalms 36:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man" (page 256).

Mrs. Nellie Cox of Dallas is spending a few days in Cameron with her sister, Mrs. Agnes Lowe.

CHURCHILL WARNS THAT QUICK ACTION NEEDED

LONDON, Jan. 23—Winston Churchill today urged the "western democracies" to unite and "bring matters to a head" at once with the Soviet government before the Russians develop an atomic bomb, possibly in a year or two.

There is "very real danger" in delay, he warned.

Churchill voiced full "conservative support of a proposal for a western Europe union announced yesterday by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, but Prime Minister Attlee said Britain's labor government would move carefully in consolidating a bloc to halt communist expansion.

Winding up a grave, two-day for eign policy debate in the house of commons, Atlee indirectly challenged Churchill's plea for a speedy east-west diplomatic showdown.

The prime minister said Britain planned "to get the idea (western European unity) formulated and propagated and then, through conversations, to build up support for it, rather than have some kind of dramatic gathering with a concrete plan in which all the difficulties would come out."

Churchill urged action now. He said that by taking the initiative in seeking a settlement with Russia the western nations would be following a course that offered the "best chance of preventing war."

Even then, he continued, there would be no guarantee that peace would be maintained.

Mr. and Mrs. Waymond Gresak of Buckholts are the proud parents of a son born at St. Edwards Hospital January 20, 1948. The baby weighed eight pounds and six ounces and has been named, Thomas Lane.

Mrs. John Mihatch of Burlington is a surgery patient in the Newton Memorial Hospital.

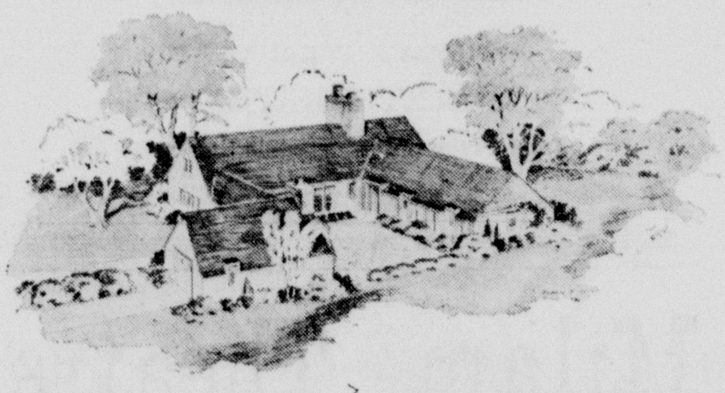
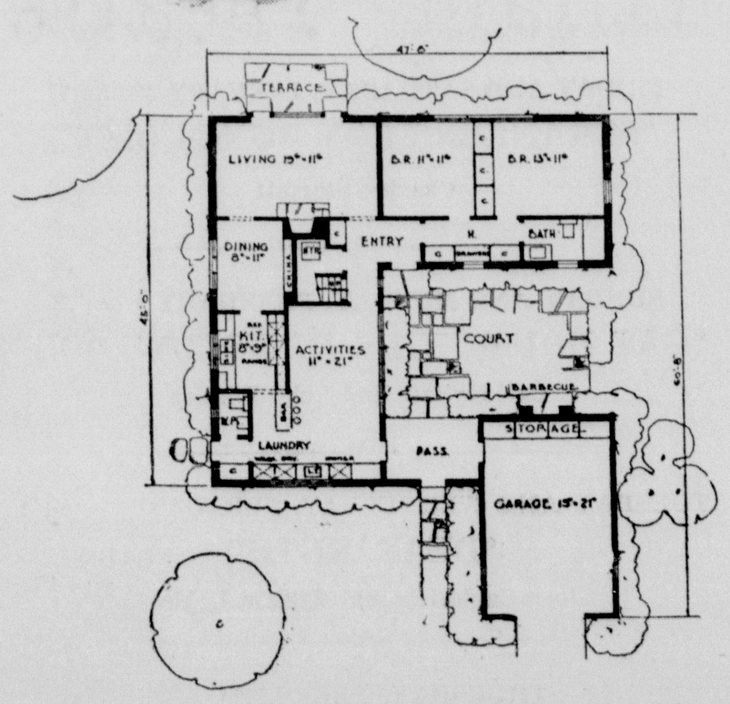
English Cottage





The flagstone paved courtyard of this English cottage is an unusual feature and affords much privacy in living. There is a barbecue on the end of the garage for outdoor eating and plenty of storage space in the garage to put the outdoor things away in the cold season. Note the interesting arrangement of the kitchen-laundry-activities area. An active family could really live in this home. A steep stairway near the entrance hall leads to future room or storage space in the attic. The house comprises 1460 square feet, excluding garage.

Dwelling shown above is a photograph of a scale model of a "cut-out" home which can be obtained from House Beautiful Magazine for $2.00. The model is easily assembled, and gives the prospective home builder an actual model of the home he plans to build, complete with "cut-out" furniture.

By studying the scale model, the prospective builder is enabled to determine what changes he deems necessary before the house is actually built, thereby saving needless expense.

INSURED FARM LOANS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

The first insured loan in Texas was made to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Churchwell in San Saba County on December 9, when the check for the loan was delivered to Mr. Churchwell by Mr. Dofflemyer, President of the San Saba National Bank. The new federally insured farm mortgage program of the Farmers Home Administration is now in effect throughout the country, Roy M. Wright, County Supervisor, said today.

Mr. Wright explained that this new program supplements rather than substitutes for the agency's direct farm purchase loan program in operation for the past ten years. The insured loans are advanced by private lenders.

Applications are accepted from qualified veterans and from tenants share-croppers, farm laborers and owners of inadequate or underimproved farms—provided they cannot obtain needed credit in any other way. The applicant must have farming experience and be a good character. He must know of a suitable place he can buy at a reasonable price, and be able to pay down at least 10 percent of the price of the farm and of the cost of any needed improvements. This 10 percent investment gives him an equity in the place. He borrows the remaining 90 percent from a private lender such as a bank, insurance company, investment firm or individual, and the Farmers Home Administration guarantees the loan's repayment.

The farmer has 40 years to pay off the loan, if he needs that long, and he pays 2½ percent interest. In addition he pays 1 percent mortgage charge at the beginning of each year, including the first, to the Farmers Home Administration. The farm he selects to buy must be appraised on the basis of long-time average prices for farm products, to be sure it is worth what it costs.

"We lean heavily on county committeemen for advice and assistance in insuring loans," Mr. Wright said, "just as we do in making direct loans. In the matter of farm purchases the committee certifies as to a farm's sound value, and passes on the applicant's qualifications.

Committee members for Milam County are Mr. Hugh Caffey, Mr. Frank P. Sherrill, and Mr. Clarence G. Colburn."

County Supervisor, Milam County

RUSSIA WANTED PART IN AXIS AGAINST US

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Secretary of State Marshall threw the book at Soviet Russia tonight—a massive array of captured nazi documents baring details of the partnership between Russia's present leaders and Hitler's reich for the division of eastern Europe.

With Marshall's sanction, the State department published the entire record of 260 formerly secret records disclosing that Russia:

1. Backed Germany heavily in her war against the west, furnishing supplies by the hundred thousand ton, striving to the last for "friendship" with Germany and aiding the nazi campaign to keep Turkey neutral.

2. Agreed with Adolph Hitler that the United States, as well as Britain, should be shut out of Europe, Asia and Africa.

3. Lost Hitler as an ally, and paved the way for Germany's invasion of Russia, by demanding among other things a military base "within range of the Bosporus and Dardanelles and assurance that the oil-rich area "south of Batum and Baku in the general direction of the Persian gulf be recognized as the center of the aspirations of the Soviet Union.

Starting with an official report of the first Soviet bid for closer ties with the nazis, months before World War II, the book embodied evidence whose release Russia blocked at the Nuernberg war crimes trails.

Included in the 362-page volume were secret agreements, signed by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, to partition Poland and slice eastern Europe into Russian and nazi spheres of control. The final entry dealt with Hitler's invasion of Russia.

The State department said the documents were all from the official archives of the nazi foreign office, were captured by American and British troops and were published now "to complete the record."

While there was no reference to the present state of U. S.-Russian relations, the circumstances nevertheless gave the sudden release the effect of a major diplomatic stroke.

865 Poll Taxes Are Issued Up To-Date By City Collector

Mr. Stafford said that 865 poll taxes had been issued up to 10 o'clock Thursday morning and that tax collections generally were normal.

Midnight January 31 is the last hour to pay taxes, both advalorem and poll taxes. Tax payers would serve themselves and greatly expedite the work of the collector's office by going early and not waiting until the last day.

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employes, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employes by an arbitration board in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employes, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employes in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employes, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employes, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employes.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employes than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employes represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (prewar) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

CHEVROLET—

the front end and sides of the car, achieved through omission of horizontal mouldings on the hood and side of the body, are retained in the 1948 models. Fenders, hood, body and door panels all blend in form and color, presenting an all-over appearance of simplicity and massiveness in the entire car.

A new ornament, simpler in appearance, highlights the nose of the hood, bearing the Chevrolet trademark flanked by horizontal wings. The crease moulding, below the windows at the side, is wider than that used in the previous models.

Window mouldings differ on the three series. The Fleetline models will retain the stainless steel individual window mouldings of the previous year. The Fleetmaster series has a moulding framing the entire group of side windows. On the Stylemaster series window mouldings are omitted.

An entirely new, more colorful series of fabrics highlights the interiors of the new Chevrolets, creating an over-all color harmony typically suited to modern-day tastes. The tone of the entire group of fabrics is much lighter than in previous years.

In the Fleetline series, the flat-woven upholstery has closely spaced pin stripes of alternating slate blue and brown. The Fleetmaster interior features a free-breathing, pile fabric on the seats, in attractive striped tan colors, while the coated fabric trim will match the upholstery. An optional novelty-weave trim is available in a new pattern and color. Deep buff genuine leather is used on the seat bolsters of the cabriolet.

A clean, smart appearance features the interior of the new Stylemaster line, with light gray materials predominating. Seat cloth is the pile type, with a contrast in shades of the stripes. Carpeting is in a contrasting dark gray, while the coated fabric trim matches the dark stripe of the seat cloth.

All series feature the time-tested valve-in-head engine, unitized knee-action front wheel suspension, and synchro-mesh transmission with vacuum gearshift, all exclusive with Chevrolet in the low-price field.

The crankshaft on the 1948 models is more rigid, with crankarm thickness increased for greater durability and for increased bearing life. The resulting weight increase also benefits engine smoothness.

New precision, interchangeable, main bearings with thin-wall babbitt will have more than double the life-span of old-style bearings. Connecting rod bearings also will be of the thin-wall, babbitt type, and also will have more than double durability.

A new, Chevrolet-developed design of oil seal on valve stems is introduced in the 1948 models. The new seal is a buna rubber ring. It eliminates the need for valve spring cap covers, thus achieving a weight reduction in reciprocating ports. Caps are smaller and stronger, and low speed oiling of the valve stems is improved.

So that garage and parking-lot attendants may drive the car with the key removed, a new ignition switch has been introduced, of three-position design. The key may be removed in any position—unlock off, unlock on and lock off—and the ignition still may be turned on or off with the switch in either of the first two positions.

The lighting switch incorporates a circuit breaker, making possible intermittent use of the lights for emergency driving, when a short circuit occurs.

A pressure-type radiator cap permits the cooling system to build up a small pressure, raising the boiling point about 10 degrees. Improved cooling is thus obtained. Because of this system, the temperature gauge on the dash has a top reading of 220 degrees, instead of 212 degrees. A large radiator drain cock has been installed to facilitate draining.

The new muffler tail-pipe projects farther to carry exhaust gases into the rear wheel windstream and prevent discoloration of the bumper.

BANK CASH—

The bandit ordered two customers, J. C. Ellis and J. K. Chapman, to lie on the floor.

Ellis had just cashed a payroll check for $125.

"Give me that money or I'll blow you in two," the robber told him.

Ellis dropped the money on the floor.

Suspecting that the gun was phoney, Anderson grabbed the money changer, weighing approximately three or four pounds, and hurled it at the man.

But his aim was bad and the money-changer crashed into the cashier's grill.

The bandit, scooped up Ellis' money from the floor, ran out the door.

Houston county Sheriff Wayne McConnell, in Grapeland on business, immediately assumed direction of the search for the bandit, who was believed to have made his getaway in a maroon DeSoto sedan with Missouri licenses.

McConnell said that fingerprints were found on pieces of the broken toy pistol.

"I recognized the pistol as being a toy," Anderson said, "and called to the others in the bank, telling them that it was a fake, but they were not sure and didn't take any chances."

KUNTZ—

progressive government who will feel duty bound to invest our tax paying dollars in the maintenance of our present installations and stand always alerted to new and progressive civic development. Keeping in mind that "Lights never shine forth while hidden under a bushel measure, nor do talents grow which are buried under retogressive ideas of thrift or false economy?

A comparative line of reasoning on economy in administration can well be drawn by taking our victorious football team as an illustration.

Up until a couple of years ago, we had a fine bunch of boys out there fighting for all they were worth and because of lack of civic nourishment they were only mediocre as a result getting team. We changed to a progressive administration who in colaboration with our city government, civic clubs and business men gave these boys a financial transfusion which as you all know resulted in victory at a very nice profit on our investments. That, my friends, is truly economic administration.

Last week in both papers I set forth in my platform some of the things for which I stand and for which I will fight for if re-elected your city Alderman, to those I now wish to add:

1. Favor revival of planning board.
2. Continue Mayor's Advisory Council.
3. Co-operate with Chamber of Commerce in making an industrial survey of Cameron and setting up a publicity fund to be derived from other than Real Estate taxes for purposes of advertising findings.
4. Enlist aid of our newspapers in conducting frequent polls to ascertain public opinion on questions of vital interest to our citizenry.
